

UK National Flap Registry (UKNFR)

12 May 2016

I am delighted to provide a reference for Dendrite Clinical Systems. It has been a pleasure to work with Peter Walton and his team.

The UK National Flap Registry is still in its infancy. It was launched in August 2015 after a process spanning several months in which Peter was supportive and helpful in its design, build, dataset and execution. Unlike other registries, I believe this registry has been somewhat of a challenge, as, in simple terms, it is a master database with several smaller registries within it. Adding Patient Reported Outcome Measures (PROMs) questionnaires which will be electronically collated at time-triggered points for different type of flap reconstructions is also a new feature. His team have been extremely professional and very responsive to our needs.

When it comes to registries, I would highly recommend Dendrite Clinical Systems, as in addition to the service agreement, they have provided that extra support, insight and guidance which has proved to be invaluable.
